

An Alfa Romeo Source List

Revised November 7, 2009

by David & Andrea Hammond

David & Andea of AROC-Detroit compiled the first version of this parts and services directory in 1987. It was updated through 1991 and reprinted in many places. Then the list slept for fourteen years. A completely revised version appeared in 2005, with updates as we find or receive bits of new information.

Please send any updates, additions, closings or corrections to David & Andrea at: alfarodeo@aol.com

Dean Russell was finishing law school when somehow he got side-tracked into Alfas and never looked back. Known by local alfisti for decades, the Trail Auto name is from the 1970s, when Dean leased a bay at Caesar's Trail Auto, a general auto repair shop, to work on Alfas full time. Trail Auto is an Alfa-only factory authorized repair facility, plus Dean keeps several parts cars, not to mention three warehouses of new and used parts at hand. Engine and transmission rebuilds, vintage restoration, race prep, Spica tuning. The yard and service bays are always filled with Alfas brought from all over for service. That's the only problem: there is often a wait.

John Donato paints and repairs many cars, but he owns a 1750 spider, a Giulia Spider and a 308 Ferrari. The prices are good, the work excellent. John's metal work and fabrication among the very best, but be aware that he works on 'Italian time.' John restored the Duetto belonging to Andrea Hammond. Also recommended by Dean Russell.

Northland Collision/Woodward Rod & Custom

23222 Woodward Ave.
Ferndale, MI
(248) 542-9707

The owner, Randy Cox, is a long time Maserati, Lamborghini and Ferrari enthusiast. Now he's getting into Alfas. He also ran Concorso d'Italia and is very involved in Meadow Brook concours planning. Randy's Maserati Ghibli restoration and paint job won First Place at Pebble Beach. He also restored Tom Rossi's prize-winning Giulia. The address above is for the main store, which is rated the #1 body shop in Detroit News polls year after year. Hidden away in an unmarked shop is most of Randy's high-end Italian and hot rod restoration work. His high-end work is in a league with Brian Joseph's Classic & Exotic Auto Restoration in Troy (where paint jobs alone average $65,000 and can be as much as $150,000)]. Most of us will want to stay with the Northland shop, which does very good work, but not aiming for major trophies.

Northland added Woodward Rod & Custom, a separate custom fabrication and hot rod shop next door.

A-1 Collision Ltd.

CAR AND PARTS STORAGE

Pine Ridge Enterprise

1-800-522-7224

Alfa enthusiasts and AROC members John and Betty Shoepke (the Bag Lady) spent years experimenting with dessicants, plastics and systems to find the right combination for car storage for John's dozen Alfas, parts and farm equipment. The Car Jacket works very well for winter or long-term car storage. Even the brake rotors come out shiny instead of rusty next spring (also works well with pianos). Steel, rubber, vinyl, exhaust systems, even polished aluminum do not seem to age with the Car Jacket. Zippered, durable, reusable. For indoor use only.
